

Supplemental Media Info

NFL's Business Leadership Forum
Wednesday, February 2, 2011
Eisemann Center, Richardson, Texas
5:30 – 8:00 p. m

ABOUT THE WINNERS

Leadership

- Eve Clark, President/CEO of MEB Construction (<http://mebconstruction.org>) - MEB Construction specializes in Tenant finish out, Commercial renovations, Facility Maintenance and Concrete barriers. The company has been working nationally and throughout the Metroplex for 5 years.

Innovation

- Chris Curtis, CEO of GoVision (<http://www.jumbo.tv/>) –Creator of state of the art turnkey portable daylight large screens which provide affordable, day or night video broadcast to outdoor and indoor events. GoVision is a premier supplier of turnkey mobile LED units and customized modular LED walls. His company played a prominent role in the 55th (Bush) and 56th (Obama) Presidential Inaugurations, the Breeders Cup, Olympic Torch Relay, Michael W. Smith, Dallas Cowboys halftime shows, and Lance Armstrong's Ride for the Roses. The Company was founded in 2002.

Social Responsibility

- Margaret Palmer, Margaret Palmer Jewelry (<http://www.margaretpalmerjewelry.com/>) – Margaret started her jewelry company with the goal of raising awareness for every type of cancer by creating the Cancer Pearls Collection – bold luminescent pearls which represent each color of cancer. (Pink is for breast cancer, yellow for testicular cancer, gray for brain cancer, etc.) Her designs are so unique they attract attention when worn - opportunities she says to start conversations about cancer. Margaret donates 15-20% of each sale to various cancer causes. Her designs are sold at various fundraisers such as auctions, luncheons, and social gatherings.

For more information, contact Pam Roach at (817) 691-5560, or pam@pamroachpr.com .